

CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

All activities of Movelt are implemented according to the human rights and children's rights values and principles, the respect of which is always a matter of special focus and explicit attention. Acknowledging that the undoubtable weight and sensitivity of this topic requires additional measures that would guarantee that children's rights are highly respected and protected in its work, Movelt has developed this Child Protection Policy which is binding for all members, employees, volunteers and external partners of the organization and its implementation is guaranteed by the Board, the Director and the Partners' Assembly.

Following this general framework, Movelt has defined specific rules and procedures, as well as a monitoring body, in order to achieve maximum level of children's rights protection and limitation, provision and prevention of any risks related to that matter.

These rules and procedures are presented in detail in the following table:

A. General Principles These principles reflect the values of Movelt that shall govern any entity or individual in the occasion of their work with children:
The Right to the Highest	As defined in Art. Art. 12 of the Covenant and the
Attainable Standard of	General Comment No. 14 of the UN Committee on
Health	Economic, Social and Cultural Rights (CESCR)
Participation	The active involvement of children and the undertaking of responsibilities and tasks strengthens their sense of self-respect and confidence, as well as provides them with a sense of responsibility and accomplishment, all of which are immensely critical for building stable and independent personalities.
